RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

A meeting of citizens was held in the Columbus hall on Tuesday evening, presided over by Mayor J. H. Farmer. The object of the meeting was to consider organization of a branch of the Red Cross and to enter the new relief campaign being sponsored. The meeting was not as largely attended as was anticipated, and the arranging of plans, etc., was somewhat left over to a later date, when it is hoped to meet a more representative gathering.

Mr. Greig acted as chairman of the meeting, at which it was decided to divide the town into five units for collection purposes. Each section will be supervised by a member of the committee, who will choose four persons to canvass in his district for donations, etc. One of the four will be captain of his particular section, and by working in pairs it was thought but a few days would be necessary to cover their section. The general committee is composed of: Mr. Greig, chairman; Messrs. M. Johnson, J. E. Gilles, C. J. Tompkins, Evan Morgan and S. G. Bannan. The latter five are supervisors of their sections, with Mr. Greig as general supervisor.

The sections will include territory as follows: 1, Royal Bank and west to the Mill, including all residences north and south of main highway; 2, Capt. Beebe's office and east to H. Upham's barber shop, and all residences north, including those at C.P.R. station; 3, Thompson's store and east to Victoria street bridge and all residences north; 4, Pizzi's sash factory, west to skating rink and all residences south; 5, Krivsky's sausage factory and east to cement plant, and all residences south of C.P.R.

Every individual, every organization, will play a part in the drive during the next four weeks. It will require help of all to reach the objective. This year there are about a half a million men out of work in Canada. In addition, there are thousands more on part time. The relief work and direct relief being provided by federal, provincial and municipal governments, are caring for the most pressing needs. But, all know what is happening in homes where only the bare necessities are provided. Undernourished, under-clothed children; mothers and fathers driven almost to desperation by circumstances over which they have no control. It should not be necessary to publish the details of these harrowing cases—we are all living too close to them to require special pleading of this sort.

B. P. McEwan, who quite a number of years ago operated a watch-making and jewelry business at Coleman, and who has since resided at Hanna, has moved to Lethbridge.

ST. ANNE'S BAZAAR

IS FAIR SUCCESS

Considering the depressing conditions existing throughout this district, the annual bazaar, staged at the opera house last evening by the ladies of St. Anne's church, was quite successful. While the attendance was not as large as on former occasions, yet the various booths and tea tables were well patronized. The following were winners in the toncuba: first, G. H. Snaad, Blairmore, china tea set; second, R. C. Old, Blairmore, silver tea spoons; third, James Tatt, Hillcrest Station, half dozen salad forks; fourth, R. Racette, Blairmore, side of ham; fifth, Mrs. C. J. Tompkins, Blairmore, china tea set; sixth, Mrs. J. J. Tompkins, Blairmore, wool blanket; seventh, Miss Jeanette Thibodeau, Lethbridge, valise; eighth, H. Zak, Blairmore, box of apples; ninth, Mrs. A. M. Dutil, Blairmore, turkey; tenth, Miss I. Brunetto, Blairmore, large frame picture of Crows' Nest Mountain. Other awards were made as follows: doll to Rod McLeod, Blairmore; rabbits to Mrs. C. J. Tompkins, Blairmore; fancy cushion, Father O'Dea, Cowley, and cake, Mrs. P. Barattelli. Added attractions included house, house, fishing pond and dancing, the latter continuing till midnight.

Frequent Coal Mine Accidents

Take Lives Of 100 Men Monthly In United States

Too much important news is in the air for many of us to pay attention to the burial of six more coal miners in a gas explosion near Wilkesbarre, Pa. Four were dead when rescuers reached them, and only two were saved.

Despite safety campaigns, more than 100 men are being killed every month in American coal mines. Coal mine accidents killed 107 men in September, 112 men in August. In the first nine months of 1931, the toll was 1,079 miners.

For every million tons of soft coal mined three miners must give their lives, for every million tons of anthracite six must die.

Pre-Winter Fire Prevention Drive

Hon. J. F. Bryant Issues Appeal To Residents Of Saskatchewan

Making a final drive to stir Saskatchewan residents to concerted pre-winter, fire prevention activities, in order that premium rates on fire insurance might be reduced, Hon. J. F. Bryant, K.C., Minister in charge of fire prevention in Saskatchewan, has issued the following appeal to the general public:

"In view of the large increase in the number of fires in Saskatchewan, and the fact that the high premium rates on fire insurance are the result of past experience in the matter of fire losses, where the lack of care of the many adds to the burden borne by all who insure their property against loss by fire, I venture once again to suggest to the householders of Saskatchewan the desirability of checking up once more on the heating systems before the winter season sets in, in order to assist in keeping down the fire losses in Saskatchewan during the winter months.

"A survey recently conducted by the Wisconsin Industrial Commission discloses the fact that approximately one-fourth of the State's losses of $10,000,000 per year was due to heating plant defects and neglects. Defective chimneys, burning out of clean chimneys, woodwork embedded into or in contact with chimney walls, rusted stove pipes, pipes too near unprotected woodwork, and placing of ashes in cardboard or wooden containers, were the main causes of this needless loss.

"A few minutes' attention to removing these causes, and a few cents spent on new stove pipes, or on asbestos or zinc protection when the stove or furnace is near the woodwork, will save many Saskatchewan homes this winter. One Saskatchewan home was burnt down every day last year. See that your home does not go next!"

Winter Cruises To Sunny South

Extensive Programme Of Sailings Arranged By The Cunard Line

An extensive winter cruise programme of twenty-seven cruises, including ten "Millionaire" cruises to the West Indies, eight to ten days in duration, eleven cruises to the West Indies varying in length from four to twenty-three days; four cruises to the Mediterranean; one cruise to Mexico and South America; and a cruise around the world, is announced for the Cunard Line by Arthur Farnes, general manager of the Cunard Line in Canada.

The "Franconia" will set sail on her annual around the world cruise on January 9th, returning to New York on March 27th after having visited a large number of ports never visited by any other world-cruising liner.

Four cruises to the Mediterranean are scheduled, commencing with the sailing of the "Mauretania" from New York on December 18th. She will be followed in January by the "Transylvania," on February 4th, and March 6th, the "Aquitania" will make two cruises to the Mediterranean from New York.

The "Samaria" will make the Mexico-South America cruise of fifty-seven days, and passengers will find "37 varieties" of new scenes and sights on this cruise. The "Samaria" will sail on February 6th.

The West Indies cruises will be carried on by the "Mauretania," "Franconia," "Aquitania," "Scythia," "California," and "Berengaria," commencing with the sailing of the "Mauretania" on November 18th and finishing with the "Scythia" when she sails from New York on April 16th. The "Millionaire" cruises will be handled by the "Transylvania" and the "Caledonia." Both these ships will make the first-of-the-cruises on December 24th and the "Caledonia" will make the last on April 22nd.

Besides, all these cruises a regular weekly service will be maintained between New York and Bermuda with a call at Nassau by the "Scythia," "Castalia," and "Caledonia."

The gigantic cruise programme indicates the trend of the times for short holidays in the winter time to the sunny climes of the south and the bookings already indicate a most successful season.

May Be World Record

Canadian Pilot Spent 926 Hours In Air During Year

Claiming an all-time record for Canadian pilots, officials of the Brooks Airways, Limited, of Prince Albert, announced their chief pilot, Capt. B. W. Broatch, in the 12 months since October 9, 1930, has spent 926 hours in the air carrying 600,000 pounds payload and about 1,000 passengers.

The freighting was done in bringing fresh fish from Lac la Ronge last winter and in carrying cargoes of various sorts into Tassota, Ontario, this spring. This summer Broatch was on the aerial forest patrol in northern Saskatchewan. Company officials believe this may be a world record.

For Close Closings

Grading Helps Exports

Standardized Grading Of Eggs Has Been Of Great Benefit

Dependable quality is an advantage in the export market. During the past year, from October 1930 to October this year, exports of eggs from Halifax to Bermuda have held steady despite the advantage of lower price enjoyed by competing export product. This is a fine indication of the value of standardized grading for eggs and also of the beneficial of government inspection of export eggs. Canadian exporters have secured the confidence of the Bermuda market in the quality of their product and the reliability of our grades. The same is true with respect to the export of eggs to Newfoundland, where quality is winning confidence with the result that important new markets for Canadian eggs are developing.

Mistress: "I'd like to give you a good reference but you have never been punctual with the meals."

Maid: "Well, say: 'She prepared electrical attachment on the starter's gun sets the watch in motion.'"

PAUL'S LETTER TO PHILEMON

Golden Text: "There can be neither bond nor free for ye all are one man in Christ Jesus."—Galatians 3: 28.

Lesson: Philemon.
Devotional Reading: 1 John 4: 1-13.

Explanations and Comments

The Introduction To The Letter, verses 1-3.—This letter was sent to Philemon by the hand of Tychicus, who was going to Colossae and Laodicea with other letters from Paul to the other churches there. Timothy was with Paul and joined him, "a prisoner of Christ Jesus." Paul writes, in sending greeting to Philemon, and to Apphia and Archippus, presumably Philemon's wife and son, and to the church that met in his house.

Thanksgiving For Philemon's Faith, verses 4-7.—Philemon was a man of means, possibly one of the converts of Paul during his stay in the city. He was greatly esteemed and tenderly loved by the apostle because of the way Philemon used his wealth and influence. His home was the meeting place of the church in Colossae. Paul in his distress had been greatly heartened and refreshed by reports of his ministries of love to the Christians in his city. Paul tells Philemon of this, and of his prayer and praise to God because of him.

"Hearing of thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus," Paul writes. "The arrangement may have been intentional, and the apostle meant to suggest that at the heart of Philemon's love to the saints was his faith in the Lord Jesus: that the source and fountain of his philanthropy was his religion, and that without religion there would have been no philanthropy at all—it was born of his religion. The reason for his lavish kindness to the saints was that the love of Christ constrained him."—D. J. Jones.

"The designation of Philemon as fellow-worker may imply some actual co-operation at a former time. But more probably the phrase, like the similar one in the next verse, 'my fellow-soldier,' is but Paul's grateful affectionate way of lifting these good people's humble work out of its narrowness by associating it with his own. They in their little sphere, and he in his wider, were workers at the same task. All who toil for furtherance of Christ's Kingdom, however widely they may be parted by time or distance, are 'fellow-workers.'—The Expositor's Bible.

A Great Indian Traveller

Sir Jehangir Kothari Has Been Round World Ten Times

One of the world's greatest travellers recently arrived in London, England. He is Sir Jehangir Kothari, an immensely rich Indian merchant who rendered valuable services to the Empire during the war. He has been round the world ten times, and has made several journeys into the wastes of the Arctic, as well as to the cannibal islands of the Pacific. His travels have involved him in many adventures. As a boy he was rescued from a sinking boat at sea. He was in Yokohama during the disastrous earthquake of seven or eight years ago, and on his next visit to Japan he witnessed the great fire at Kobe. Soon after the outbreak of war he subscribed £175,000 to the War Loan in one sum, and maintained at his own expense a large staff engaged in war work. His home is in Karachi, to which city he has been a generous benefactor. He was knighted in 1921.

Dirigible Scrapped

Dismantled R-100 Being Sold For Scrap Metal

The dirigible R-100 is being sold for scrap metal, the British Air Ministry has announced.

The R-100 cost more than $2,000,000. What she is bringing was not disclosed.

The dirigible made only one notable flight, from England to Canada in the summer of 1930.

Ever since the R-101 disaster over France, October 5, 1930, in which almost 50 persons were killed, there has been agitation against the use of dirigibles in the air force. Several times the question came up in the House of Commons.

When Viscount Philip Snowden, who was recently raised to the peerage, introduced his last budget, he announced that the R-100 would have to go. Economy was the reason. Only the motors and fabric will be retained. The dirigible was completed November 28, 1929. Aside from her Canadian trip she made few trips except on test journeys over England.

"You know perfectly well what I mean," she answered, a tremor born of anger and wounded feeling in her voice. "You thought I was inquisitive—trying to find out your name—"

"Well"—humorously—"you were, weren't you?" Then, as her lip quivered sensitively, "Ah! Forgive me for teasing you! And—more earnestly—"forgive me for not telling you my name. It is better—much better—that you should not know. Remember, we can only have this one day together; we're just 'ships that pass.' He paused, then added: "Mine's only a battered old hulk—a derelict vessel. And derelicts are best forgotten."

There was an undercurrent of deep sadness in his voice, the steadfast, sublimely sadistic of a man who has long ago substituted endurance for revolt.

"Remember, we can only have this one day together." The quiet utterance of the words struck Jean into realization of their significance, and suddenly she was conscious that the knowledge that this unknown Englishman was going away—going out of her life as abruptly as he had come into it—filled her with a quite disproportionate sense of regret. She found herself unexpectedly up against the recognition of the fact that she would miss him—that she would like to see him again.

"Then—you want me to forget?" she asked rather wistfully.

Her eyes fell away from his as she spoke.

"Yes," he returned gravely. "Just that. I want you to forget."

"And—and you?" The words seemed dragged from her without her own volition.

"Oh! Oh!" he laughed a little. "I'm afraid I'm inconsistent. I'm going to ask you to give me something I can remember. That'll even matters up if you forget and I remember."

"What do you want me to give you?"

He made a sudden step towards her. "I want you to dance with me—just once. Will you?"—intently.

He waited for her reply, his keen, compelling glance fixed on her face. Then, as though he read his answer there, he stepped to her side and held out his arm.

"Come," he said.

Almost as if she were in a dream, Jean laid her hand lightly on his sleeve and he pulled aside the portiere for her to pass through. Then, putting his arm about her, he swung her out on to the smooth floor of the "salon."

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause

When your baby fusses, fusses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria, you know, is the gentlest of all children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regulative help will bring relaxed comfort and restful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

They danced almost in silence. Somehow the customary small-change of ballroom conversation would have seemed irrelevant and apart. This dance—the Englishman had implied as much—was in the nature of a farewell. It was the end of their stolen day.

The band was playing "Valse Triste," that unearthly, infinitely sad vision of Schubert, and the music seemed to hold all the strange, breathless ecstasy, the regret and foreboding of approaching end of which this first, and last, dance was compact.

It was over at last. The three final chords of the "Valse"—inexorable Death knocking at the door—dropped into silence, and with the end of the dance uprose the eager hum of gay young voices, as the couples drifted out from the "salon" in search of the buffet or of secluded corners in which to "sit out" the interval, according as the spirit moved them.

Jean and her partner, making their way through the throng, encountered Madame de Varigny on the arm of a handsome Bebel. Arab. For the fraction of a second her eyes rested curiously on Jean's partner, and a gleam of something that seemed like triumph flickered across her face. But it was gone in an instant, and, murmuring some commonplace to Jean, she passed on.

"Who was that?"

The Englishman, rapped out the question harshly, and Jean was struck by an unaccounted note in his voice. It held apprehension, distaste; she could not quite analyse the quality.

"The Cleopatra, do you mean?" she said. "That was my chaperon, the Comtesse de Varigny. Why do you ask?"

"I've a great, relieved laugh. 'No particular reason,' he returned with some constraint. 'She reminded me—extraordinarily—of someone I used to know, that's all. Even the timbre of her voice was similar. It startled me for a moment.'

He dismissed the matter with apparent indifference, and led Jean again into the same little alcove in which he had found her. They stood together silently in the dim, rose-tinted twilight diffused by the shaded lamp above.

"Well," he said at last, slowly, reluctantly. "This is really the end of our stolen day."

Jean's hands, hanging loosely clasped in front of her, suddenly tightened their grip of each other. She felt herself struggling in the press of new and incomprehensible emotions. And for the first time she was crying out rebelliously: "Why? Why must it be the end? Why not—other days?"

Pride alone kept her silent. It was his choice, his decision, that they were to be parted; and she knew that he could so composedly define the limits of their acquaintance, she was far too sensitively proud to utter a word of protest. After all, he was only the comrade of a day. Why—why should it matter to her whether he stayed or went?

"I always believe"—the Englishman was speaking again, his eyes bent on hers—"I always believe that, no matter how sad or tragic people's lives may be, God invariably gives them one magic moment—so that they may believe in heaven. . . . I have had mine today."

"Don't you—believe in heaven?" He laid his hands lightly on her shoulders.

"If do now. I believe . . . in a heaven that is out of my reach."

His hands slipped upward from her shoulders, cupping her face, and for a moment he held her so, staring down at her with grave, inscrutable eyes. Then, stooping his head, he kissed her lips.

"Good-bye, little comrade," he said unevenly. "Thank you for my magic moment."

He turned away sharply. She heard his step, followed by the quick, jerky rattle of brass rings jerked violently along the curtain-pole, and a moment later he was gone. With a dull sense of finality she watched the heavy folds of the portiere swing suddenly back into their place.

CHAPTER VII.

Which Deals With Reflections

The dawn of a new day possesses a curious potency of readjustment. It is as though Dame Nature, like some autocratic old nurse, wakes us up and washes and dresses our minds afresh for us each morning, so that they come to the renewed consideration of the affairs of life freed from the influences and emotions which were clogging their pores when we went asleep. Not infrequently, in the course of this species of mental ablation, a good deal of the glamour which invested the doings of the previous day gets scrubbed off, and a new and not altogether pleasing aspect of affairs presents itself.

This was somewhat Jean's experience when she woke on the morning following that of the fancy-dress ball. Looking back upon the events of the previous day, it seemed to her that the tubbed, maternal mind almost incredible that they should have occurred. It was like a dream—life itself tricked out in fancy dress.

Adventure of the glamour of romance and sympathy with which the unknown Englishman had contrived to clothe it, the whole episode of their day together presented itself as disagreeably open to criticism, and the memory of that last scene in the alcove sent the blood tying to her cheeks. She asked herself in mute amazement how it was possible that such a thing should have happened to her—to "our chaste Diana," as her father used laughingly to call her in recognition of the instinctive little air of aloofness with which she had been wont to keep men at a distance.

Of course, the Englishman had taken her by surprise, but Jean was too honest, even in her dealings with herself to shelter behind this excuse. She knew that she had yielded to his kiss—and knew, too, that the bare memory of it sent her heart throbbing in an inexplicable tumult of emotion.

The stolen day, that day embarked upon so unconcernedly, in a gay spirit of adventure, had flamed up at its ending into something altogether different from the light-hearted companionship with which it had begun.

Then her conscience, recreated and vigorous from its morning toilet, presented another facet of the affair for her inspection. With officious detail it marshalled the whole series of events before her, dwelling particularly on the fact that, with but very slight demer, she had consented to abrogate the accepted conventions of her class—conventions designed to safeguard people from just such consequences as had ensued—and winding up with emphasis by the corollary that although, like most men in similar circumstances, the Englishman had not scrupled to avail himself of the advantages the occasion offered, he had probably none the less, though perhaps chagrined of her for permitting him to do so.

New Concept Of Evolution

Records, the U. S. Show Evolutionary Forces Move Invisibly Slow

A "new concept" of evolution was presented to the National Academy of Sciences meeting, at New Haven, Conn.

Based upon 42,000,000 years actual evolutionary records, the new idea indicates a creative force still at work.

It disputes Darwin's thesis that accidents are part of nature's progress. It challenges the ability of modern science to change human essentials quickly—even to change them in less than millions of years patient effort.

This new evolution was described by its author, Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn of the American Museum of Natural History, one of the world's foremost authorities on prehistoric discoveries.

His evolutionary records are those of the "Titanotheres," a family of animals which developed horned skulls, and of the elephant family, scientifically termed the proboscideans.

"Recently the grinding teeth of the proboscideans" said Dr. Osborn, "enabled us for the first time to establish the rate of evolution in an extremely important adaptive organ, very slow even in the course of 10,000 years."

"This incredibly slow rate exposes the futility of modern experimental research which would produce a new character in a single year, or a few seconds."

Not All For Home

Mechanical Inventions By Women Are Also Aid To Industries

The man who swore he never saw a woman put hammer to nail without smashing her finger and who claimed that the scores of labor-saving machines for the home were all the product of man's inventive genius, received plenty of surprises if he was among those present when the Tenth Exposition of Women's Art and Industry opened at the Hotel Astor, New York. It is in the section devoted to models of devices patented by women that mere man found disproof of his contentions.

Sixty-five women inventors from all parts of the country had models of their designs on display.

The fact that the records of the U. S. Patent Office show that more than 15,000 patents have been issued to women in the last 15 years is cited as proof of the progress of the sex in the inventive fields. Although many of the models displayed are of household articles, a large number deal with the field of industrial arts.

One of the most valuable of women inventions is to be seen at the Exposition is the Cotton fire light, burning like red fire, which is used by the Coast Guard and mariners all over the world for signalling. It was invented and patented by Mrs. Martha J. Cotton. Other inventions by women include devices for increasing the comfort of travellers on railroad trains, improvements for roads and rails, traffic signals and block signals.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME

There at the Children's Home they stay,
Little children, grave or gay.

Babies whose laughter seems all used up,
Babies as lithe as a butterfly;

Floataas tossed on the city's foam,
Little ones out at the Children's Home.

Toddlers stumbling into the sun,
Marching demurely, one by one,
Blue-clad ranks at their morning play,
Nobody's little ones, grave or gay;

These are the waifs at the Children's Home!

Lonely for lack they do not understand,
Lack of a mother's tender hand;

Lonely for love and a chance to live,
Things that it seems life ought to give.

May this thought, somehow, to the right heart roam,
And find home for some child from the Children's Home!

Peevish, pale, restless, and sickly children over their condition to worms.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will relieve them and restore health.

Navigation At Churchill

Sailors Say Route Open Until November

During the last days of October, the "Ocean Eagle," government tug stationed at Churchill, travelled far into the Arctic Ocean, nearly to the Arctic circle, and as far west as Fox Channel, and only sighted ice once during the trip, according to word brought down by sailors who have spent the summer in the Bay port.

The trip through the Hudson Bay and into the area that has been described by eastern journals as "iceberg infested" proved to be entirely routine.

Weather conditions were mild, and no heavy seas were encountered; the only ice sighted was when they reached the northernmost point in their journey far out of Hudson Bay.

While weather conditions have been unusually mild in the north country this fall, it is not considered unusual among the natives of this area not to see icebergs and snow until late in November.

Fox Channel, admittedly the most difficult part of any trip to Churchill, was clear of ice in the middle of November. It would have been possible for the "Furnworth" and the "Parkworth" to have made at least one and possibly two trips to Churchill to carry out wheat, according to mariners at Churchill.

An Interesting Exhibit

Thuringia Princess Spent Thirty Years Completing Collection Of Dolls

At Arnstadt, in Thuringia, an exhibition unique in its way is attracting hundreds of admiring spectators. It is the collection of dolls which was once the hobby of a princess. Early in the eighteenth century Princess Augusta Dorothea of Schwarzburg-Arnstadt spent thirty years making the collection complete. It comprises 450 dolls and eighty dolls' houses, and is so arranged as to give an accurate picture of the court and citizen life of the period. Groups of dolls also represent scenes from the working and commercial classes, with every detail of the costumes worn in these days.

London Hatter Says Seven and Half New Normal Size

A London West End hatter states that hats have been demanded larger in size during recent years. He was unable to explain the phenomenon, if anyone had asked for size 7½ a few years ago it would have been a special order. But today the big head is quite normal, and it is necessary to have 7½ in every style of hat, ready-made on the shelves.

WILL CANADA STAND FOR THIS?

There has been dissatisfaction with the operation of Canada's pension system for soldiers since the very beginning and this became so pronounced that the government set up a special tribunal which was to sit in different parts of the country and hear each case. It was expected that the new tribunal would deal with the cases under review honestly, but yet sympathetically, and, so far as possible, be removed from the red tape and the distinctly unsympathetic attitude which had been so grafted and, as we believe, so rightly complained of. This tribunal has been functioning for some time and Sir Arthur Currie declares that after deciding upon 2,929 cases it recommended 1,436 pensions. But of these the old Pension Board, which still functions, has appealed 1,017. Of the 1,436 cases which the tribunal, after careful consideration recommended, only 419 have been allowed to stand, and all the rest have been forced to undergo the delay and risk of ultimate rejection entailed by an appeal. This strange state of affairs is one which reflects credit upon nobody, and should surely be ended at once. The country at large may take but little interest in each individual case, but it is certain that the young men of Canada who volunteered for military service and who have returned home partially unfitted for their daily tasks have the right to be treated with the greatest consideration, and it is a most lamentable thing that they should be dealt with as though they were attempting to cheat the country for which they ventured their lives. From the point of view of both humanity and politics the matter had better be settled speedily, and the decisions of the tribunal, which was established, as many of us thought, for this very purpose, had better be absolute. Whatever be the verdict of the pension officials, it's we are sure will be the verdict of the man on the street who in the end will have to foot the bill. Canada cannot afford to incur even the suspicion of treating her returned men shabbily.—The Net Outlook.

A POTENT REASON

It was election day in one of the border towns in Ohio, and a negro farmer came in to vote, bringing along his three sons.

"Hello, Sam," said a man who knew the farmer. "What's on your mind?"

"Ise jist lookin' round to see how's 'lection."

Later in the afternoon the same man met the negro again. "Voted yet?" he asked.

"Yassir, Ise voted, and my boys, they's voted."

"How did you vote?"

"Well, boss, it's lak this: I meets a Republican, and he gibs me 'leven dollars to vote his ticket, an' I met a Democrat, and he gibs me seven dollars to vote for him. So I voted for the Democrat."

"What for? The Republican gave you the most money?"

"Yassir, that's the pint. I voted for them Democrats becase they was leas' corrupt."

The teacher was examining the class in physiology: "Mary, you tell me, what is the function of the stomach?"

Mary: "The function of the stomach is to keep up the peptic acid."

LET YOUR DOLLARS
SERVE CANADA! IS
SLOGAN FOR LOAN

"Let your dollars serve Canada!" is the slogan for the appeal which the Dominion Government has launched to raise $150,000,000 "to promote the economic and financial welfare of Canada," as it is aptly put in the official circular containing details of the 1931 National Service Loan.

The offering of this considerable amount of bonds to investors is one of the most important financial undertakings this country has ever witnessed, certainly since the war days when Victory bonds were offered in large amounts and readily subscribed to save the country from foreign aggression.

Now the necessity has arisen of saving the country from economic consequences of an extraordinary character, and that the public will respond with the same promptness as was unquestioned when Canada stood on the verge of a catalysm in the darkest days of the Great War.

Owing to world-wide conditions, economic problems are confronting Canada, which require the public to respond with the same promptness and in the same measure as when Canada faced the darkest days of the Great War. That is why the present appeal for funds is being made.

One of the important features of this issue is that the public will receive a little more than 5 per cent on their investment. The bonds are being issued to mature at the end of five years, according to the wishes of investors. The five-year bonds are priced at 99, and the ten-year maturity at 99. Both classes can be obtained in denominations of $500 and $1,000, but the five year issue can also be obtained in $100 lots, which will appeal to people of modest means.

The interest dates are May 15th and November 15th, the interest rate varying to accrue from Nov. 15th, 1931. Fully registered bonds of large denominations, running up to as high as $100,000, are also obtainable with the interest payable on these direct to the holder by Government cheques.

All the banks in Canada and their branch offices are authorized to accept subscriptions as well as all recognized bond dealers throughout the Dominion.

General feeling in well-informed financial circles is that there will be adequate response on the part of the investing public to make this issue a great success. There is profound confidence among bankers and other leaders in the realm of finance, that Canadians can be depended upon to back up their country with their money when the call is made for their assistance.

That there is a large amount of money awaiting favorable opportunity for investment in some high-class security, such as a Government bond provides, is unquestioned. The public have savings in the various banks aggregating upwards of $1,500,000,000. This total approximates an increase of $49,000,000 over the figures of a year ago, which goes to show that the public are displaying pronounced habits of thrift, one of the healthiest signs possible for any country to exhibit.

Besides this source of purchasing power, it is stated on good authority that trust companies hold a substantial reservoir of funds which could come in to service in connection with just such an offering as the Dominion of Canada is making through the Department of Finance at Ottawa.

These are encouraging factors which ought to crown the offering with success if the public at large and the efforts of financial organizations of the country.

The Dutch wheat mixing last, effective July 4, enforcing a maximum of 25 per cent of soft domestic wheat in the making of bread in Holland may lead to an increase of this percentage which should have the effect of creating a great demand for Canadian hard wheat, says J. MY SHARE OF THE WORLD

Hail to thee, Canada, maple-leaf land! Of beauty and peace so rare, so grand. O vast Dominion, I love thee all, From winter to spring, summer to fall.

Thy beautiful lakes, both deep and wide, Sailing my dream-ships on soft-lapping tide. Frozen in winter and hiding from view, Until the spring, when born anew, The roar of thy falls, 'mid turbulent streams,

Wend their ways, 'neath crescent moon-beams.

Wheat gaily waving, curtsyeing corn, Burnished to gold at radiant dawn; Then eventide as daylight fades, Etching each sheaf in darker shades. Yet fairest of all 'neath Solomon's rays,

The darkest days e'en but for me, always, Arresting, appealing, monument sublime, By Dame Nature molded, enhanced by time.

Overlooking the house-tops nestling below, A landmark of beauty for all to know, The "Turtle," with gently rising shoulders, Casting long shadows o'er great fallen boulders,

While far distant abounding, encircling my queen, Beloved of the world, the Rockies, serene.

'Tis here the angles weep for joy a shower, Making for me a real rainbow bow; At the foot of which lies my pot of gold—

The little town I claim so bold. And if I could dip into each lovely hue, I would paint a picture of this spot for you.

But this I will. With flags unfurled I stake my claim, my share of the world.

I name it mine, for I love it best, Hillcrest beloved. Forever, Hillcrest.

German Remedy Stops 30-Year Constipation

It brings out all gas and rids you of poison you would never believe was in your system. Even the FIRST dose will surprise you. Blaimore Pharmacy.

Don't Attempt Too Much

In these days everybody is, or at least should be, learning some valuable lessons in the economics of business and work which should assist him in the years to come. The experiences of today are, undoubtedly, revealing to some people just where they made mistakes in the past, mistakes which had been avoided would not have landed them in some of their difficulties of the present. Countless thousands of people are being compelled to make drastic retrenchments in the conduct of their business, living expenses, etc., which would not have been so necessary had reasonable retrenchment been made in years gone by and a curb placed upon the satisfaction of their desires. Many people are saying "Never again" will they be caught doing what they formerly and mistakenly did do.

The varying detail of the great lesson which experience is teaching us cannot be discussed in one article or possibly in one hundred articles. But in reading a recent magazine article, dealing with the life experiences of one man in which that man told of an incident happening when he was six years old, and which he considers the most important lesson he ever learned, in school or out, the thought presents itself that in this new Western country, perhaps a goodly number of people have made the mistake which this man so early in life learned to avoid. At all events the incident is, we believe, worth repeating inasmuch as it carries its own illustration.

The now eminently successful man to whom reference is made was set to work by his father thinning out the growing peaches from trees that were too heavily laden. The boy protested to his father that he did not see any sense in so doing, and asked: "Why not let them all grow and have more peaches?" "All right," replied the father, "We'll try it both ways. One tree we won't touch at all. That'll be your tree. The other tree we'll thin out so that the only peaches left will be at least six inches apart. That'll be my tree. And we'll see what'll happen." The boy, now grown to successful manhood, says he watched the fruit grow and ripen and at last the fruit was ready to pick. "My tree," he says, "yielded about six bushels of runty little peaches. And my father's tree yielded more than eight bushels of fine, large peaches. All because he had thinned out the load on his tree and left mine to struggle along with more than it could handle."

And all that this wise father said to his boy: "Trees are a lot like people. If you want to get good work out of them, you have to find out how much work they can handle well. Then give them that much work to do. If you try to work them too hard, you'll spread their energy all along the line and give you second-rate results."

The question is: Have not too many of us here in the West spread ourselves out too much, instead of confining ourselves to the main job? In an intense desire, a laudable ambition, to get on, have we not attempted too much, dissipated our energies over too great an area instead of giving greater application to fewer things and made them truly successful? For example, have not many of us yielded to the very natural temptation to acquire more land than we can successfully cultivate, rather than be content to work to its capacity the old original quarter or half section? Would we not be better off today had we resisted that temptation to spread out, to take on too much?

And is not this simple illustration of increase of acres acquired, this spreading out of our energies which such increase entailed, merely an illustration after all other tendencies in our life which, when the first check comes, or difficulties arise, land us in trouble beyond our capacity to handle?

Each man doing his own particular job and doing it well, rather than attempting several jobs and doing all of them in an inferior way, is the sound, safe way to a true way which, in the long run, achieves the largest measure of success.

Showed Originality

Illinois Woman Accused Of Singing Insults At Neighbor

Mrs. Elfreda Dohring of Evanston, Illinois, says she doesn't like to be insulted in the key of "F" or any other musical scale.

So she went before Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter and swore out a warrant for her neighbor, Mrs. Pearl C. Dorband, saying that for two years Mrs. Dorband has been singing insults at her from her back porch.

Sometimes, she said, the insults were by implication in popular songs and sometimes Mrs. Dorband just made up her own songs.

Palm Prints As Detectors

Just As Infallible As Finger Prints

Palm-prints as opposed to finger-prints were used for the first time in a court of law when a prisoner pleaded guilty at the Old Bailey to house-breaking and shop-breakage. The Recorder asked whether palm-prints were as infallible as finger-prints. Detective-Inspector John C. Doherty, the matter had been studied by Scotland Yard for some time, the conclusion being in the affirmative.

Condition Not Alarming

Alberta Does Not Fear Grasshopper and Cut Worm Outbreaks Next Spring

No alarm is being given regarding the possible serious outbreak of grasshoppers and cutworms next summer, H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture in Alberta, informed the Canadian Press.

"We have information that thousands of grasshopper eggs have been laid in this province, particularly in the southern part," said Mr. Craig, "but it is not alarming for our experts have large stores of poison bait prepared for just such an emergency."

"Every year we have some trouble with cutworms and they are likely to be found fairly numerous next year, but this, too, is not alarming. We have knowledge of these possible outbreaks and we are prepared to act quickly, so feel certain that the situation will never get out of control in Alberta."

A Glass Of Cold Milk

School days are milk days and rightly so, because no other food is so refreshing, healthful and nourishing as milk. When the boy or girl comes home from school at four o'clock they are hungry and tired and the wise mother knows that a glass of milk is the most healthful and easily prepared food she can give. The four o'clock glass of milk should be part of the school-day programme.—Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

So Short Of Breath Would Have To Sit Down

Mr. C. M. Stroeder, Hanover, Ont., writes: "I could hardly do my work, and after going up or down stairs I had to sit or lie down for a while as I would be all out of breath."

War In Manchuria Boosts Insurance Rates For Pacific Shipping

War insurance rates are now being quoted by companies dealing with Pacific shipping, it is announced.

Although the war clause has been in all insurance policies it has been inactive since the end of the Great War. When that conflict broke out the war risk rate to the Orient was as high as 2 1/2 per cent. owing to the presence on the Pacific of German raiders.

The insurance companies announce that war insurance will be applied on cargo from Hong Kong northward, the scale increasing in proportion to the rate of possible risk. Hong Kong is lowest, with approximately 1-1/2 of one per cent. premium. Further north the rate jumps, approaching a full one per cent. for Harbin, where actual hostilities affect freight movements.

FASHION HINT

"How to make my old skirt conform to the new length was a problem to me until I hit on this plan. I dropped the hem, and as the skirt had been turned under, it was darker than the rest, I redyed the entire dress, after having bleached the goods, following directions in the Diamond Dyes package."

"I used Diamond Dyes for the redyeing, of course. I have dyed many things with these wonderful colors. They have saved me many dollars and have never failed to give perfect results—smooth, even colors to wear and wash. I think my things are new when I redeye or tint them with Diamond Dyes. They do give the most gorgeous colors!"

Mrs. G.C. Lewis, Quebec.

A Debatable Question

Bill Drafted In Old Country To Make Voluntary Euthanasia Legal

The Medical Officer of Health for Leicester has drafted a bill to make voluntary euthanasia legal. The subject is far too important to be thrust on the side by the political controversies of the moment, and, on this course, the bill in question stands not the smallest chance of passage into law at present, and will very likely never even be introduced, it ought at least to stimulate a serious discussion of a problem far too long delayed by side-tracked. The proposal that a person suffering from an incurable and acutely painful disease should be permitted, after legal authorization based on the medical examination of the case, to pass peacefully out of life at his own desire raises fundamental issues in the fields of law, of medicine and of religion. Reasoned objections and traditional prejudices will be ranged against it. There are few who would care to pronounce dogmatically either against the proposal or for it without prolonged and anxious reflection. But Dr. Millard, by once more giving the idea of euthanasia concrete form, has made it certain that the subject will be seriously explored.—London Spectator, London, England.

Heads Welfare Agency

Hon T. A. Cregar To Direct New Organisation In Winnipeg

Hon. T. A. Cregar, former Dominion Minister of Agriculture and Minister of Railways and Canals, heads a new organization of Winnipeg social agencies called the Greater Winnipeg Welfare Committee. Under the leadership of Mr. Cregar's direction representatives of some 100 social organizations will work for the betterment of conditions among the unemployed of the city and surrounding municipalities. Schemes to provide employment, recreation and entertainment with a view to keeping up the morale of the workless men and women will be inaugurated by the committee.

Certain morbid conditions must exist in the stomach and intestines to encourage worms, and they will exist as long as these morbid conditions permit them. To be rid of them and spare the child suffering, use Miller's Worm Powder. It will correct the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions favorable to their propagation, and the child will have no more suffering from that cause.

Already Dead

A certain Missouri editor refuses to publish obituary notices of people who, while living, failed to subscribe to his newspaper, and gives this pointed reason:—"People who do not take their home town paper are dead anyway, and their passing away has no news value."

"Doctor, isn't it true that we can live without the appendix?"

"Yes, the patient can, but for us surgeons it is indispensable."

The woman always pays—if her husband doesn't forget to give her the money.

CONSTIPATION Banished for 20 Years

No one could have had more experience of constipation than this man. His method of correcting the trouble is so simple and so easy that anybody who suffers in a similar way.

I am now approaching my 40th birthday and have used Kruschen Salts for many years. As a boy and youth I suffered at frequent times agonies from constipation. This was, after a time, somewhat relieved by a special pill compounded to a prescription, but which, at times, had a weakening effect. On someone's recommendation I tried a bottle of Kruschen Salts, and since then—a matter of at least 20 years ago—have used nothing else. My daily life I take in hot water at 7.45 a.m.—E. A. D.

The six salts in Kruschen are Nature's own prescription for keeping the organs of elimination working properly—gently but surely expelling all poison waste matter every day. Start on "the little daily dose" of Kruschen to-morrow and so take the first step along the royal road to perfect health.

Medical Scientists Make Important Discovery

Believe They Have Found Preventive For Infantile Paralysis

By making young monkeys too old for their age, two medical scientists at Columbia University have discovered a phenomenon which they hope may eventually lead to a powerful preventive weapon against infantile paralysis.

Dr. C. W. Jungblut and Dr. E. T. Engle injected extracts from the anterior pituitary glands of sheep and rats into immature monkey of an age similar to the juvenile period when human children are most susceptible to the scourge. Then they inoculated the monkeys with a strong dose of infantile paralysis virus from human beings.

Instead of dying, as other monkeys had when subjected to the virus without a previous injection of the hormone extract, they resisted the disease entirely in some cases and developed only a passing attack of the paralysis in others.

MILDARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Another Triumph Of Electricity

Polythetic Electrical Systems Now In Use On Most Liners

Ever since John Harrison produced in 1785 the first marine chronometer, the science of keeping time on board ships at sea has become more and more exact. Until today, the average ocean passenger liner has at its disposal the combined knowledge of the world's observatories—transmitted by wireless and recorded by electric clocks. There is, in fact, no excuse for being late nowadays aboard ship.

In the old days the chronometer served within a varying degree of accuracy to acquaint a captain with the time of the day or night, which he checked with the aid of observations of the sun and stars. Since the introduction of wireless telegraphy, it has been possible to keep a check on the chronometer of which every well-furnished ship carries three. Each is specially constructed to remain level when the ship is pitching and rolling, and is contained in a glass case maintaining an even temperature. In spite of this, there are always slight errors. Various means have been used to check from these small errors, and from some forty different observatories all over the world, the signals being a broadcast of actual ticks of the observatory chronometer, over a period of five minutes, by a Commander, J. G. Bisset, R.N.R., in his fascinating book "Ship Ahoy."

"As a result of all these facilities for checking the chronometer, the average ship nowadays only carries one chronometer, or at the most two. The idea of carrying three before the days of wireless was so that one could be checked against the other, and in the event of a slight change of rate any of them the two that synchronised could be taken as being in all probability correct."

How are ship's passengers to know the time so accurately obtained by the navigating officers on the bridge? Various means have been used, but the most modern system, known as "Pulsyn-etic," is probably the best yet devised. By this system all the clocks in the ship's public rooms, engine rooms, offices, etc., are controlled by a master clock which usually is located in the chart-room. The master clock is a strong time transmitter operated by a balance wheel (a pendulum being obviously impossible on board a ship at sea).

Whether the ship is east or west into a different meridian the time is of course, advanced or retarded. The "Pulsyn-etic" impulse transmitter is fitted with an operating key-lever and a dial engraved with minutes, so that all the clocks on the circuit are automatically altered as desired. This system is now in general use on most Cunard steamers including the "A" ships and the "Agaric."

The passenger, awakened by notice boards of the intended retarding or advance of time each night, and armed with the correct time electrically transmitted simultaneously to all parts of the ship, has little excuse for being late for meals, dances, games, or a score of other engagements which modern ship-life makes possible today.

King Decorates Airmen

Aviators Who Captured Records Received Air Force Cross

The two airmen who have travelled faster than any one else in the world, Flight Lieutenants G. H. Stainforth and J. N. Boothman, received the Air Force Cross from King George at Buckingham Palace in recognition of their feat—winning the Schneider Cup outright for Britain and breaking the world's air speed record.

The fliers spent forty minutes with the King. Then they walked out modestly and slipped the decorations into their pockets.

Flight Lieutenant G. H. Stainforth set a world's air speed record of 408.8 miles an hour on Sept. 29. Flight Lieutenant J. N. Boothman won the Schneider Trophy permanently for Britain with an average of 340.08 miles an hour on Sept. 13.

Contracts awarded by the Manitoba Government for heating buildings owned by the province this winter call for coal mined in Western Canada. Hon. W. J. Clubb, Minister of Public Works, has announced. The government is also continuing the policy of using cordwood wherever feasible with a view to furnishing employment to settlers in Manitoba bush areas. Alberta and Saskatchewan coal will be used.

Testing Waters Of Ganges

Scientists Find Bacteria Which Kill Many Disease-Germs

The belief of the Hindus that the waters of the Ganges have special life-giving properties has received confirmation from science. Experiments by scientists have shown that Ganges water contains bacteria which are able to attack and kill—the germs of a number of diseases. The School of Tropical Medicine in Calcutta has been investigating these helpful bacteria, and it is hoped that cultures of them may be obtained which will be of use in fighting disease.

International Bridge

Four Players On Ocean Liner Spoke Different Language

During an ocean voyage four passengers made up a game of bridge. One was a German, one an Englishman, one a Portuguese, and the fourth a Frenchman. Not one of them could speak the language of the others. Fortunately, an interpreter able to speak all four tongues was available, and he stood by and interpreted each call trillingually. The game went quite well. Incidentally, the obliging and talented interpreter was a Pole by birth, though of German nationality by adoption.

Cause Of Asthma. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain, and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to irradiate except through a surgical preparation. Dr. J. H. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

Little Migration From Britain

Migration from Great Britain to the Dominion is not being encouraged and assisted passage schemes are in abeyance, apart from exceptional cases involving the reunion of families. It was stated in the British House of Commons by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary of state for the Dominions. Economic conditions throughout the Empire caused the shutdown in migration, he said.

Greece is encouraging the amalgamation of corporations.

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an acid neutralizer, such as Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard for physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

Due to Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless, non-staining, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine. The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth-paste that safeguards against acid-mouth. (Made in Canada.)

RUSSIA IS ASKED TO KEEP OUT OF MANCHURIA

Tokyo, Japan.—A friendly warning that serious complications will result if Russia sends troops into north Manchuria was despatched to Moscow, by the Japanese Government. The Japanese ambassador at Moscow was instructed to convey the warning to Maxim Litvinoff, commissar for foreign affairs.

The ambassador was directed to inform M. Litvinoff that no damage was done the Chinese Eastern Railway by the Japanese troops to Tientsin. The railway is jointly operated by Russia and China.

The railway, the Japanese note said, had been used for the transportation of Chinese troops.

The note denied that Japan was "manufacturing" rumors of Russian assistance to China.

A proposal that a commission of investigators visit China proper as well as Manchuria was looked on with favor.

"We are eager to restore our relations with China," a government spokesman said, "but we are in no hurry to discuss the five points (stipulated by Japan as peace conditions)."

Nanking, China.—China intends to continue her resistance against Japan in Manchuria despite the reverses she has suffered.

This was made clear by two developments: Chiang Kai-shek, president of the Nanking Government, announced he was going immediately to Manchuria, and the Ministry of War made public a message from Chang Hsueh-liang, deposed governor of the province, saying that he had put all his troops at the disposal of General Ma Chan-Than, Chinese commander in the field.

Included in Chang Hsueh-liang's troops, the war ministry said, are 10,000 artillerymen who are being brought from the Russian border.

Royal Winter Fair

Prize Money In Cattle and Dairy Products Shared by Westerners

Toronto, Ont.—Dairy cattle and dairy products were the centre of attraction in agricultural judging at the Royal Winter Fair. Again illustrating the national character of the fair, prize money was widely distributed.

Senior and grand champion in the bull awards went to Lonsdale Farm, Sussex, N.B., on the well-known Abbecker Sylvania Lad. The junior ribbon was awarded the Canadian Pacific Railway Supply Farm at Strathmore, Alberta, on C. Koba Fairchild. Reserve junior was carried off by Hays and Company of Calgary, on Hays Johanna Dekol.

Manitoba creameries made a stellar showing in the butter awards with the championship trophy for the highest aggregate score going to the Manitoba Co-operative Creameries, of Winnipeg. Belmont Creameries of Belmont, Man., won a similar award for the highest individual score. In the dairy butter section, Mrs. A. R. Bell, Stonewall, Man., took first. In total winnings Manitoba was followed by Saskatchewan, Ontario and Alberta in that order.

University of Alberta took first place in the Angus market cattle class, with James D. Patterson, Richmond Hill, Ont., taking second place. Another western Canada win came in the special class for six-horse turnout, with Allan Leslie, Watrous, Sask., taking the honors with his team of wonderfully matched Clydesdales.

Britain Pays Debts

New York, N.Y.—The Herald-Tribune said the Bank of England was entirely out of debt to the federal reserve system of the United States on October 31, "having apparently paid off every dollar of the $125,000,000 credit which fell due on that day."

The Herald-Tribune says this fact is disclosed in the federal reserve board's current monthly review, released for publication.

Farm and Labor Party

Single Government For Three Prairie Provinces Is Advocated

Brandon, Man.—Single government for the three prairie provinces should be sought by united efforts of farm and labor organizations in the west, advises A. J. Macaulay, president of United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan section). He told the convention of United Farmers of Manitoba that prairie government was costing entirely too much.

Leader of the 30,000 members farm body which recently decided to step into politics, Mr. Macaulay said farmers of Saskatchewan believed they could co-operate with the Independent Labor Party on an economic policy aimed at bettering conditions for farmer and workers.

"It is time we got down to real economic issues," Mr. Macaulay counselled. "We must avoid slippery politics and endeavor to do the things that are the best for the west. Political parties are controlled by campaign funds. There is every possibility of a conference of the nature of agriculturists representing the area from Quebec to the Pacific Coast to set up a national fiscal policy designed to aid agriculture."

Final result of the vote, heaviest in the history of the city, was: Davison, 17,324; Luck, 1,028; majority for Davison, 16,296. The total vote was 18,352, which was approximately 4,000 more than the ballots cast in the civic election last year.

Sir Robert Borden, president of Barclays Bank (Canada) in addressing the fourth annual meeting of the shareholders here, cautioned against the use of this change in general feeling for the purpose of creating a "boom" which might have a disastrous reaction.

The board of directors were re-elected, and Sir Robert Borden was re-elected president and Arthur B. Purvis, vice-president.

Royal Winter Fair

New Record Is Established For Number Of Exhibitors

Toronto, Ont.—A new record has been set by the Royal Winter Fair in the number of exhibitors for this, its tenth year. An estimate of the number of animals and birds follows:

Horses, 1,000; cattle, 4,400; swine, 1,000; sheep, 600; cats, 250; dogs, 600; poultry and pet stock, 7,500.

Honors Go To Alberta

Exhibitors Of Reward Wheat Score At Royal Winter Fair

Toronto, Ont.—Leading honors in the spring wheat classes at the Royal Winter Fair went to Alberta. The first six placings except fourth, out of nine prizes went to exhibitors from that province. This is the most important event in the seed department of this show and really represents the wheat championship class for Canada. There were over 70 entries this year and all wins were made on the outstanding variety, "Reward," a wheat originated by the Dominion Experimental Farms. The winners were: Eddie J. Shank, Athabasca, first; J. H. B. Smith, Pincher Creek, second; William Taylor, Grand Prairie, third; George Candfield, Wild Rose, Sask., fourth; Fred Pavely, Wembley, sixth; Herman Treble, Wembley, sixth; Alex Paul, Dauphin, Man., seventh; A. Anderson, Swan River, Man., eighth; and Leslie Bartlett, Vauxhall, Alberta, ninth.

EMPIRE GOODS TO BE EXEMPT UNDER NEW LAW

London, Eng.—Canadian goods will not be taxed under the National Government's anti-dumping legislation. This was made clear in the House of Commons when the resolution, conferring sweeping powers upon the President of the Board of Trade, passed through both stages.

The resolution would grant to the President of the Board of Trade power to impose a maximum duty of one hundred per cent. on a long list of products. But L. Hore-Belisha, Parliamentary secretary for the Board of Trade, explained no Canadian or other Dominion products would be affected. "The Dominions are to have a preference," he asserted amid cheers, "and it is to be one of one hundred per cent."

There would be no cause for complaint concerning the treatment of Dominion products, said the Parliamentary Secretary. Charles Williams, Conservative, introduced an amendment which would provide that duties against British Empire products would not exceed two-thirds of the rate imposed on similar foreign products. This would represent, he explained, a preference of one-third for the Dominions but, at the same time, he hoped the Government would announce empire goods would be excluded entirely from the scope of the legislation.

There was need for no alarm, replied Mr. Hore-Belisha. "I have already made the declaration, and I make it again, that no articles which are empire products will be chargeable for duty under the bill." The Williams' amendment then was withdrawn.

The measure was an emergency one, members of the Government frankly admitted, designed to meet abnormal conditions. In advancing it, both stages at the one sitting, the House disregarded its usual procedure, but "ordinary procedure, would take a fortnight." It was suggested by Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, as the House agreed to speed up its routine.

Liberals Win Seat

Ontario By-Election Is Won By Opposition Candidate

Guelph, Ont.—Carrying a constituency that has been Conservative, with but one exception, since 1902, Paul Munro, Liberal, was elected to the Ontario Legislature for the riding of South Wellington. His majority over W. P. Gamble, Conservative, was 258. The vote was: Munro, 7,209; Gamble, 7011.

The by-election was necessitated by the death of a short time ago of Hon. Lincoln Goldie, former provincial secretary in the Ferguson Government.

Mitchell F. Hepburn, M.P., Provincial Liberal Leader, said the result was significant of public opinion throughout the province.

The result of the by-election leaves the party standing in the legislature as follows: Conservatives, 88; Liberals, 15; Progressives, five; Independent Conservatives, two; U.F.O., one; Labor, one.

Trade Policy Suggested

U.S. Senator Would Welcome One Mutually Beneficial

Ottawa, Ont.—"Canada has been the best customer for United States products; and I should be very glad to see a policy pursued mutually beneficial for both countries and which would increase the trade between Canada and the United States." So stated Hon. W. H. King, Democratic United States Senator from Utah, and prominent member of the finance committee of the United States Senate. Senator King is a member of the United States Congressional Party visiting Canada under the aegis of William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to investigate the Canadian sales tax system.

Study Agricultural Problems

Delegates From Alberta To Attend Meeting In Toronto

Edmonton, Alberta.—Prominent Alberta agriculturists, headed by Premier J. E. Brownlee, will attend a meeting in Toronto on December 27 which has been called by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of discussing possibilities of the formation of a Canadian institute of agriculture.

The functions of the proposed institute would include a thorough and continuous study of agricultural problems and of marketing possibilities in Canada and other countries, and the dissemination of information as to quantity, quality and sales requirements of these individual markets. Besides Premier Brownlee, who will deliver one of the three keynote addresses, the Alberta party attending the conference will include: H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; Senator D. E. Riley, High River; E. W. Jones, Superintendent of Agriculture for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Calgary.

Girl Wins Scientific Honors

Astronomer At Harvard Observatory Awarded Henry Draper Medal

New Haven, Conn.—Development of a girlhood fascination for gazing at stars from the attic window of her father's home, led Miss Annie Jump Cannon to one of the highest scientific honors here.

She was presented with the Henry Draper medal by the National Academy of Sciences, the first woman to win this award for scientific achievement.

Miss Cannon is an astronomer at Harvard Observatory. She has catalogued more than 300,000 stars. The meaning of this may be understood by recalling that all the seeming myriads of visible stars number only about 5,000.

No Foundation For Report

Government Not Prohibiting Importation Of Natural Gas Into Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—As far as can be learned here there is no present basis for the report appearing in an Eastern Canada financial paper that the Dominion Government proposes to prohibit the importation of natural gas into Canada.

No recent move has been made in that direction. During the debate on the budget at the last session, suggestions were made that such action be taken. They did not receive very serious consideration and since then the matter has not been under review.

OTTAWA EXTENDS WARM WELCOME TO U.S. VISITORS

Ottawa, Ontario.—Canada officially welcomed the United States Congressional Party studying the Dominion sales tax system at a banquet tendered here by the Canadian Government. From Rt. Hon. Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister, and Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, who is actively assisting the American party in its enquiry, came the warmest words of greeting, friendship and assurances of co-operation. And by Hon. T. P. Gore, beloved senator from Oklahoma, afflicted with blindness nearly half a century ago, words of appreciation and international goodwill were expressed.

"We in Canada are here as interpreters between Great Britain and the United States," Sir George Perley declared. "No duty could be more pleasant or more important than a task of interpreter, because I believe that with the British Empire and the United States holding together we can accomplish anything we like for peace and happiness in this world."

A strong belief in the Canadian sales tax system was indicated by Mr. Ryckman. "The nation that has a deficit unprovided for is not a nation that can hold up its head among the nations of the world," the Minister of National Revenue declared.

"Denmark has established Canada and the United States as neighbors," Senator Gore stated. "We are destined to be and remain neighbors for ever and a day. We are destined to be neighbors as long as the grass grows, and as long as the water flows. We would not slip that golden chain or break that bondage of friendship."

The dinner tendered by the Government concluded the first day of the stay in the capital of the Congressional Party who visited Canada under the auspices of William Randolph Hearst, publisher. All members of the Dominion cabinet in Ottawa, were at the head table with the United States Minister and leading members of the visiting party.

U. F. M. AGAINST PROPOSAL FOR POLITICAL ACTION

Brandon, Man.—Manitoba's organized farmers refused to re-enter the political arena, quitted four years ago. By a sweeping majority, United Farmers of Manitoba in the closing moments of their three-day annual convention, rejected a proposal for political action and referred the question to the locals for study.

Seekers for a Socialistic Empire in Canada, Manitoba's organized farmers stood up with their Saskatchewan brethren as outspoken opponents of capitalism and private ownership. As an "ultimate objective," United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan section), aimed at social ownership and co-operative non-profit production.

General approval among 20 points of a new "future policy" passed in a series in hurried, undebated votes, the "key resolution" blamed the present economic crisis on the capitalist system. Capitalism, it was held, was inherently unkind since its basis was private ownership of resources and control of production and distribution involving payment of rent, interest, and profit.

Supported by heavy attendance from the north of the province where favorable crops have been harvested, a series of resolutions asking drastic economic changes were approved. For the first time in the farm body's history, Dauphin, 175 miles northwest of Winnipeg, was chosen as venue of the next convention. Two northerners, W. J. Ward of Dauphin, and Fred Downing of Kellou, were re-elected to the presidency and vice-presidency.

Premier John Bracken, Attorney-General W. J. Major and Municipal Commissioner D. L. McLeod spoke to the delegates who a few hours before had taken the stand that the Manitoba legislature should be "a superior municipal council subject to political affiliations." Two John Queens, leader of the Independent Labor group in the legislature, addressed the convention.

"We can beat this depression if we are prepared to work together and share the burden, I adopt the British motto of equal sacrifice and I believe we are," declared Premier Bracken. War debts, tariffs, over-production and labor-saving devices, he believed, were the causes of the existing conditions with markets the root of the problem. Universal tariffs and nation-wide unemployment insurance were his quoted remedies.

Outline of the recent proposal for redistribution and adoption of proportional representation in Manitoba to save not more than $100,000 annually was offered by Mr. Major. The convention voted its endorsement of the plan, which would cut the number of Manitoba members from 35 to 35. Winnipeg membership would be reduced from 10 to seven, with one member each for Brandon, St. Boniface, The Pas and Rupert's Land, and three members from each of eight rural districts.

Reports Conditions In England Better

Recent Election Was Marvellous Opinion Of J. P. Morgan

New York, N.Y.—J. P. Morgan unexpectedly broke his usual silence upon his return from Europe to observe that "things are looking a good deal better in England."

In response to a question: "How are conditions in England?" he said: "It was a marvellous election and it looks as if for the Nationalist Government will be in for a long time."
